1.1.84
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant
Theodore Cottingham, August 25, 2003
www.NewCovenant.me

1. I love you Ted, and I appreciate you bringing Amy to show her where you pray so often. I appreciate you interceding for your children and your family, as well as your future and others you have not touched yet. I appreciate you caring deeply about the street people and those with less, less of apparent means and riches, but those I care for as much as those thought-high.

2. Open the eyes of My people to My body—My whole body and separate not the parts that need each other so desperately, to function properly, in tandem, congruently, in Me, as One—no dividing nuance upon nuance, but rightly being My family.

3. Love My family more and enjoy Me being Me in any and every person of Me—those centered on Me and seeking to enjoy me in their lives. Love them and propel them in Me, Me, more, more. Love and propel, love and propel, love and affirm, affirm and admire and set them free to love and laugh and be My body in context and congruence where My blood flows throughout My body as one—bread and wine of Me flows to all of Mine.

4. No excluding the sincere truth-seeker who is sincere and seeking truth—seeking Me—openly questioning what's been handed and served as truth, but not always correct, not always truth—often tainted, and often in error.

5. I will speak and I will speak through the speechless and the wise and the not so wise—in your eyes, in your eyes, in the eyes of the world, based on mammon, pettiness, and self-exaltation.

6. I will speak and I will elevate and I will come through the youth of your day like I have never come through the youth of any day, arising them up as giants and those with sight and sound and guts in creativity of My creativity, embracing My ways, My principles, and My precepts—but most of all, embracing Me—physically, mentally, emotionally, and not just intellectually.

7. I am moving into the hearts of My people influence—to influence them, for them to embrace truth, and not doctrine of doctrine of men and angels not of Me. I am truth—embrace Me more and help all My body to embrace Me more.

8. Your passion for My house—all of My houses, all of My houses, all of My thought-houses—to become houses of prayer, rejoices My heart and makes Me smile, smile, smile.

9. Oh Ted, enjoy My admiration and My affirmation for who you are and not be so seeking or desirous even, of admiration or affirmation, or even affection, from those you look to, from those you want it from.

10. You are Mine, Mine, and Mine alone. I am One and you are one and we are one and one is power and glory and dominion, and Ted, sometimes lonely and not easy.

11. Leadership of love always grieves for those who love not in the depth of love that love is.

12. As you recognize My affection and My admiration and My appreciation more, and more, and more, you will always appreciate the affection of those close and special to your heart—but less and less, will less than you want, hamper your resolve to respond to My touch and My presence, in fullness of power.

13. Enjoy, tender, touch, and be Me with all of Mine—close, and not close to you.

14. I will laugh with you more for you desire to laugh and want so deeply to know you bring Me pleasure, joy, and not pain. I will laugh with you and open your laughter more and more as you seek to freedomize yourself, even in Me, all of Me, only Me, knowing all of your fullness is in Me.

15. Take My joy to My people, for downtrodden are so many who look for crutches and await help from others, while My hand is outstretched and beckoning them and wooing them and awaiting to empower them.

16. Let Me walk, let Me run, let Me fly and be to you all I can be and I will withhold nothing from you, from them, from the totally surrendered, yielded, maturity-seeking, heart.

17. My Word—My Word is neglected so broadly, with little respect, little knowledge, little involvement in the lives of My Mine. Oh Ted, bring them to My Word as you place their hands in Mine, and help them see the applicability of My Word to current circumstances in their present lives.

18. My Word is not old. My Word is ever new. My Mine thinks I'm old and My Word is old and I am decrepit, if I exist still at all. Open, open, open their eyes to My joys, and pleasures evermore will be acquired and leaped from, into My big world.

19. Respect, tenderness, acceptance, affirmation, admiration, deference—Ted, is this too much to ask of those who I sustain at My knee, to act in these ways, with their hearts embracing Me and deeply Me and who I am and touching Me, and allowing Me to touch My Mine through Mine?

20. Oh Ted, leadership, leadership, leadership—arise My leadership and let them know—honor, respect, tenderness—whisper, whisper, whispers are more powerful than shouts and commands and demands which only defray and fray and tangle the emotions of the heart that wants to see Me in My Mine.

21. Untangle the emotions and webs of deceit and untruths that slow and stop and prevent maturity in My body—encouraging and modeling and raising up the leadership that will model encouragement and purity in My body.

22. There is no lack in My body—none, none, none. I am Me. All Provision is My name. I am One with My body. I love My body. My body that will not reject My body will walk in My power and provision and look like Me, and not the world.

23. Great chasms coming between those who will wear My name and look like Me, for so much of Me in them—and those who seek to remain in control, control, control.

24. My favor, My freedom, My accolades, My kudos, My encouragement for and to all of My Mine that will pray My prayers and let Me open My fullness to all that is embedded in My Words to them, to My Father, to them, for them, for Me, for Him.

25. Oh Ted, share and hold not back and run and weary not, for your time is now in releasing multiple multiples of many multitudes to run and gallop and freedom enjoy—in Me, in Me, in Me.

26. Oh thank you, thank you, thank you.

27. Days, hours, minutes—arise, your time is now—they come for you, not for execution, but for exaltation, for your exaltation is for Me, for it is to Me, and of Me, and Ted, for you to exalt Me only, Me only, Me only, not you, not yours, not of you, not of yours, Me, Mine, My body, My words, and My Word.

28. Enjoy—go conquer and smile and laugh with Me and somber not be.
I smile, I laugh.
I thank you.